

NEW JERSEY PARENTS' INTERACTIVE NETWORK FOR GIFTED EDUCATION

OUR MISSION FOR GIFTED EDUCATION

Do you struggle to meet the needs of your gifted child?
Do you feel alone in that struggle?

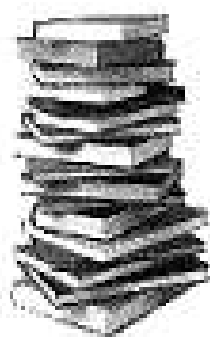

Our goal is to create a community of parents and educators who want to share ideas and create positive change for gifted children. Our web site will help you network with other parents, both online and through local support groups. It will also be a place to learn about what's going on in gifted education, locally and at state levels.

What we offer

Come see us online! We list established New Jersey support groups and organizations for the gifted, as well as events for parents and children. More importantly, we are building a list of parents and educators who are available to answer questions and/or who want to create local support groups. Listed by county and town, our members are eager to find others in their area who are concerned with gifted education.

Membership is easy and free.

Come meet us!

We will be at Montclair State University's G/T program opening sessions on March 3 & 4, 2007, at 10:15 a.m.

In the future...

We know how difficult it can be to find appropriate books for your gifted children. We will be making available a book list area on our site where book suggestions and reviews can be submitted and subsequently posted in an organized, searchable way.

We are also planning to add an area to submit reviews of gifted programs and classes. What better way to determine if they are worthwhile for you and your children?

Who we are

Kenneth Long and Isabella Lusini are concerned parents who created this site to help others. The world of parenting gifted children can sometimes be lonely and exasperating. We feel strongly that when people who share a desire to improve the lives of gifted children work together, great things will happen.
